

2017 Accreditation Process

- Late March Attend APR Information Session (via webinar or in-person, TBA)
- Learn from recently accredited members about the process and what you need to prepare.
- Early April Apply for eligibility and prepare
- Apply for accreditation online at www.praccreditation.org (five years of PR experience recommended). Submit eligibility form and payment to the Universal Accreditation Board (UAB). You will receive notification of eligibility from the UAB within four weeks. Plan how you will proceed. You have one year from the date you receive UAB authorization to complete the computer-based examination. Access preparation resources such as the candidate's instructions for Panel Presentation, Panel Presentation Questionnaire and panelist grading instructions. And, plan to attend the prep courses and take advantage of the mentoring/buddy program conducted by the Tampa Bay Chapter. You may also choose to participate in the online study course.
- April/May Participate in one-on-one Panel Presentation mentoring and prep meeting
- You will be assigned an APR mentor/buddy, who will meet with you to review your portfolio and offer tips and suggestions for your Panel Presentation session. Ask your mentor to do a "test run" Panel Presentation with you.
- Download the Questionnaire for Panel Presentation. Select a public relations plan you have written that reflects your experience and complete the Questionnaire. Request a Panel Presentation through the UAB.
- By June 1 Complete the Panel Presentation Questionnaire
- Send an electronic copy of your completed questionnaire a minimum of 10 business days before your scheduled presentation to Katy Parsons, co-chair of the Tampa Bay Chapter Accreditation Committee at KParsons@chappellroberts.com.
- Week of June 12 Participate in Panel Presentation
- The Panel Presentation sessions will be scheduled in consultation with those who have applied. Present your portfolio and respond to interview questions, allowing one to two hours for your session. Panelists score your knowledge, skills and abilities in 12 KSA areas and evaluate skills that cannot be judged in the computer-based examination. The Panel Presentation plays an important role in the Accreditation process. The UAB notifies you to advance or not advance to the computer-based examination. If advanced, you will receive a personal ID number to use to schedule the examination. If not advanced, you can repeat Panel Presentation after 90 days. You can appeal the result to the UAB after two retakes of the Panel Presentation.
